With Aldermen yeiling "Gag rule!"

Whoses McKee, Senator Alfred R. Page.

"Free speech has been stiffed!" "The two rottten old parties have mude a deal!" "Woodruff and McCarren have us by the throat!" "Corporations own the city!" while Little Tim Suilivan smiled blandly and Murphy men writhed under the lash but fell in line, the reapportionment of the Assembly districts was jammed through this afternoon.

A big fight was expected, but itw as prevented by parliamentary legendemain.

Alderman eMyersw as elected chairAlderman eMyersw as elected chair Alderman eMyersw as elected chair-main.

Alderman eMyersw as elected chairman without opposition. He carried out the prearranged plans of the combination with the determination and nerve of a Thomas B. Reed.

of a Thomas B. Reed.

"A quorum is present. Alderman Grifenhagen has the floor," said Alderman eMyers, as the last name of the roll call left the clerk's lips.
Grifenhagen presented the report of the committee with a nice little speech. While the paper was on the way to the clerk's desk Alderman Brown of-fered a resolution that the report be adopted. The report of about 10,000 words was not read, but Alderman

The "Gag Rule" Applied. "I move the previous question," shouted Brown. Under parliamentary usage this question is not debatable, but that did not trouble the city fathers. Six of them jumped up and all began talking at once. It was like a Sunday ball game at South Beach. Everybody talked at once. Chairman Meyer's voice could barely be heard above the protests against gag rule, as he asked "shall the previous question be ordered?" "Aye" yelled a dozen voices.

"Contrary," said the chairman. "No." shouted another dozen, and three or four Aldermen demanded a

The chairman seemed not to hear them. "The ayes have it and the previous question is ordered. Call the roll," said the chairman.

The roll was being called in a second,
"I appeal from the ruling of the chair," howled Alderman Peters.
"Too late, the roll call has begun," said the chairman, and all hands talked at once, while chairman Meyers pounded the marble slab with his gavel.

Not a Question of Privilege. Finally Alderman Olvany got the or on a question of personal privi-ege and began to explain a rule allow-ag full discussion on all committee re-orts, but was shut off by a decision-nat the question was not one of privichat the question was not one of playing.

Members who wanted to talk had to resort to explanations of their votes. This they did Alderman Downing (Rep.) charged that the apportionment was the result of a deal between Woodruff and McCarren. Alderman Peters hurled maledictions and threats at all parties, and said that both of the "old rotten parties will find on next election day that this is the best deal they ever made for their opponents—the Municipal Ownership League. Alderman Olvany refused to vote.

The roll call developed sixty-six votes for the report and six against it. Two Aldermen were excused from voting.

The apportionment makes many revolutionary changes in the political map of New York. It helps the Republicans and the Sullivans and weakens Charles F. Murphy.

How Murphy is Hit.

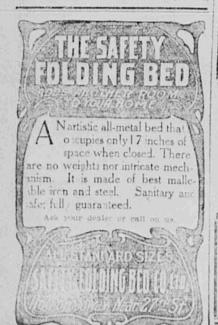

To begin with, Murphy's own GasHouse district is slashed all to pieces, while Little Tim Sullivan's Bowery district is left intact. Not a single Sullivan leader is disturbed and many are strengthened, while several Murphy leaders have been eliminated from the list of political factors. Even the headquarters of some of the Timmany Club have been legislated out of their own districts by the new lines.

Haffan, the Tammany leader of the Bronx, who has the largest district in the city, will probably not be able to carry this new district for his own ticket. It has been cut up into three and territory out of it given to two of the strongest Republican leaders in the Bronx. Thomas J. Whittle, secretary of the Republican County Committee, got a whole district carved bodity out of Haffen's old territory. Edward H.
Healy, the next strongest Republican leader, swis a district sut out of the lower half of Haffen's, and Haffen himself will have to fight it out with W. T.
Germaine, a strong Republican leader, whose old district adjoined Haffen's, but is now included in it.

Hard Fights Ahead. How Murphy Is Hit.

Hard Fights Ahead.

The changes in districts of Republican leaders are looked upon as indigiting that some hard political battle are to be fought. Chairman Parsons placed in the Twenty-seventh, when Dr. W. C. Wilson is now distributed in the twenty-seventh when the control of the twenty-seventh when the control of the twenty-seventh was the control of the twenty-seventh leader and the finance Committee; Alderman Meyer, Republican leader on the floor. Attorney-General Mayer, the present leader of the Twenty-third
